Your Safety Comes First

Anlin First Guard Laminated Security Glass, your first line of defense in a changing world, provides invaluable response time for your family during home security threats. By creating a near impenetrable triple layer lamination of glass and polymer, Anlin First Guard provides greater protection from “Home Invasions,” adds critical response time and stops today’s “Smash and Grab” burglaries. Most home alarm sensors connect to window and door frames making standard glass an easy access point, but not with Anlin First Guard.

Anlin First Guard Laminated Security Glass complies with ASTM F1233 Forced Entry Class 1.0 security glazing standards. Anlin First Guard doubles the thickness of the protective polyvinyl butyral inner layer fused between 2 layers of glass. It is engineered to fracture, but remain in place, even after repeated attempts to break in. Anlin First Guard Laminated Security Glass can be used with any or all windows and doors throughout the house.
